Press release, November 2024

swissQprint innovations at C!Print 2025

The Swiss manufacturer of large format printers, swissQprint, will present cutting-edge printing solutions and creative applications at C!Print, taking place from 14–16 January 2025 in Madrid. Visitors will be able to explore the latest UV printing technologies at stand E14.

At C!Print 2025, swissQprint will showcase its latest innovations. Jorge Suberviola Freire, Managing Director of swissQprint Spain, said: "Our high-end flatbed printer Kudu will be the centrepiece, alongside stunning applications including vibrant neon inks for UV printing."

Kudu high-end flatbed printer

The Kudu delivers exceptional print quality at speeds of up to 304 m² per hour. It features a 3.2×2 m flatbed and 10 customizable colour channels, making it the most productive and versatile printer in the swissQprint flatbed range. Engineered for 24/7 operation, the Kudu is known for its reliability and user-friendly design. It has already proven to be a popular choice among operators around the globe.

Inspiring ideas

Special application ideas will also be on display to inspire visitors looking to tap into the creative potential of UV printing. Among these inspirations will be the neon yellow and neon pink inks. With their dazzling fluorescent effects, they enable new possibilities for eye-catching signage and printed materials that glow under black light.

36 months warranty

The experienced Spanish swissQprint team will be available at stand E14 to assist interested parties in finding tailored solutions. Visitors will also learn about swissQprint's unique 36-month warranty, which applies to all machines across the range, providing complete peace of mind for users.
